ORGATONE SAVES YOUTH

SHE LIVED IN A HOUSE THAT TURNED ROUND

Mrs. W. C. Hunter, one of Joplin's best known women and who has lived at 315 North Joplin street for 25 years, gives the following testimony:

"For the past five years I have suffered untold agony from a severe case of stomach trouble. I suffered with dizziness and have many times fallen in a faint to the floor when those spells came on me; it seemed as though the house was turning round and round. One does not realize how I suffered until they have gone through with the pain and experience I have. There was hardly a week passed that the doctor did not call at our house to attend me, and it seems as though I have taken a wagon load of laxatives and pills which only afforded me temporary relief and for a few hours only. Really and truly my existence was miserable until my attention was called to Orgatone treatment.

"I have taken three bottles of this preparation to date and you would be surprised at the change in me. It is almost unbelievable. The dizzy spells have left me entirely. I eat anything my appetite may desire without any bad after-effects. I feel like a new woman. Your medicine, Orgatone, has worked wonders in my case and I shall never forget. Words fail me when I try to express my opinion for what Orgatone has done in my case and I want other sufferers to hear of same."

Thousands of men and women praise Orgatone for just such benefits as those described by Mrs. Hunter as having been gained by her through the use of Orgatone. Orgatone builds health and strength through the stomach, blood and nerves. Orgatone can hardly be termed a medicine—it is a food for the intestines.

Typical Tributes.

Mrs. J. A. Cox, 704 Kentucky avenue: "I suffered from general run-down condition. When I managed to eat anything I was immediately troubled with gassy, bloated stomach. Every slight noise bothered me. I am glad to recommend Orgatone because it made me feel like a new woman. My whole system seems to have undergone a change for the better."

OF STOMACHS AND THEIR OWNERS.

Seriously ask any dozen of your acquaintances who have reached or passed middle age how they feel.

At least one will say: "I am not at all well lately. I guess I am wearing out—stomach seems to have left me; I am getting along, you know—nearly forty."

Indigestion, dyspepsia, belching and bloating, sourness and soreness of the stomach, constipation, biliousness, inactive liver, dizziness, kidney troubles, pains in the side and back, palpitation of the heart, headaches, ringing in the ears, "spots" before the eyes, neuralgia, rheumatism, general "run-down" condition, weakness, nervousness, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, falling off in weight, and general debility, with the foul breath and irritability which are unpleasant to the sufferer's family and friends as to himself—these are among the ailments that mark "the wearing out of the stomach."

It is one thing to be unfortunate and quite another thing to be foolish. The unfortunate must be pitied; the foolish must be wised up. A great many people whose stomachs are wearing out need to be wised up.

Orgatone, the triumph in modern chemistry, the great reconstructive machine, has kept thousands of stomachs from wearing out—has made them like new, and made their owners feel like new men and women.

As you read your statements about Orgatone, you will be struck forcibly with the frequency of the expressions, "Orgatone made me feel like a new man—like a different person." "I am gaining weight and feel years younger!" "Orgatone means money in my pocket because it has enabled me to go back to work—to work harder." They talk about Orgatone because Orgatone has given them something worth talking about.

"Orgatone changed me from a sick, nervous 'grouch' into a normal happy man," says Percy Runyard, a noted and much-traveled violinist of prominence. "I was ready to give up, but Orgatone made me feel like a new man," says J. W. Goetz, who lives at 311½ Main street, Joplin, Mo. Mrs. C. T. Miller, who lives at 2162 Willard street, Joplin, after being "given up," says: "I have gained 45 pounds in three months through the use of Orgatone. I feel as a strong, healthy, happy woman should feel." Those endorsements—and hundreds of thousands like them—were fortunate; but they were not foolish. They did not let their stomachs wear out. They did not become old.

Hundreds of thousands of men and women recommend Orgatone because Orgatone has made them ready and eager to do their work—whether the housewife's unending tasks, the laborer's burdensome toil, the farmer's delving and digging, the mechanic's deft handiwork, the business and professional man's anxious and intricate affairs.

Orgatone, the triumph in modern chemistry is a food and a tonic for the lower intestine, delicately adapted to stomachic needs. It is the ideal remedy for run-down men and women who need a toning of the stomach and digestive system, purifying of the blood and revitalizing of the nervous system.

Orgatone is being specially introduced and explained at Roy R. Getman's Rexall Drug Store, 113 Main street.

"MIRACULOUS" IS MONDIER'S WORD RELATING RECOVERY

JOPLIN, Mo., Aug. 1.—C. C. Mondier of Tulsa, Okla., came all the way to Joplin to get a bottle of Orgatone. He knew the value of Orgatone.

"Orgatone has saved me money, as it has made me fit for work," Mr. Mondier said. "It has made me feel like a new man."

"I suffered from nervousness and a bloated stomach. My system was all run down. Food would never agree with me, but always go against me. Sleepless nights and nervousness had me in a mighty poor condition. I suffered from a continual bloating and that tired, no ambition feeling. Orgatone was recommended to me, so that I began taking it."

"The results are remarkable. I have gained seven pounds. My appetite has improved, my food agrees with me. I am sleeping like a baby and my relief in general through Orgatone is miraculous."

"I am only too glad to boost Orgatone, because I have had such good results from it. As I said, it has put money in my pocket because it has made me fit to work and given me ambition."

Orgatone's value can hardly be overestimated, according to the statements of thousands of men and women who have taken it. Mr. Mondier, having regained through Orgatone invaluable health, bloating and pains of the stomach, indigestion, nervousness, deranged liver and kidneys, catarrhal conditions and other disorders have been relieved in cases of thousands of men and women who have gladly made known to other sufferers their benefits by taking Orgatone.

Typical Tributes.

Mrs. Fred Beers, 1902 Virginia Ave.: "I have taken only one bottle of Orgatone and yet I feel like new. For years I suffered from nervousness and a stomach affection of the system, from kidney trouble and indigestion. My weight decreased and my nerves were run down. My whole system seems to be on the mend since I have taken Orgatone."

President Gordon is planning to make a number of changes in the administration of the school, in order that it may prove an even greater force in developing the rural and urban schools in the 11 counties set aside as the particular field for this normal. He plans to have one or two men to stay in the field a great part of the time, to visit all the teachers, see them at work, learn of their difficulties, and in fact make the normal something of a clearing house for teachers' problems.
